CHANCELLOR'S MESSAGE TO THE GRADUATES

On behalf of the faculty, staff, and students of The University of Maryland College Park, I extend sincere best wishes to each of you who is receiving a degree today. I share the pride that members of this community take in your accomplishments, and I congratulate you, your families, and friends on this very special occasion in your lives and the life of this academic community.

Today represents a milestone in a lifelong quest for knowledge. I hope that you have discovered during your years at College Park that you have the ability to dream and to do the hard work necessary to realize some of your dreams and aspirations. Each of you, through your presence and participation, has made a contribution to the life of the College Park community. As you have grown and learned, those around you have learned from you.

By virtue of your achievements, you—today's graduates—have an opportunity and a responsibility to enrich and enhance the world beyond the College Park Campus. I hope that each of you leaves this campus with both training for challenging work and the ability to be a clear thinking, articulate, and compassionate member of our society. We face many problems—even crises—in our world today, but these are also exciting times that present exciting challenges. I believe that we must be willing to move away from the ordinary and be willing to take intelligent risks to accomplish many of the things we deem worthwhile.

Today is a day of celebration. Enjoy your success and cherish the memories of these special years. But remember, too, your responsibilities to yourselves and to your community. We must all learn the lessons of the past and the present so that we can set the direction for the future. I hope that your future will have a place for continued involvement with this academic community, and I wish you Godspeed.

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

The Campus

College Park is the seventh largest campus in the country in enrollment. In Fall 1987 undergraduates numbered 29,549 and graduate students 8,509 for a total enrollment of 38,058. This year's College Park operating budget is approximately $417 million, including financial aid for some 16,000 students.

Students can choose from more than 125 undergraduate and 80 graduate programs leading to degrees. In 1986-87, the University awarded 5,570 bachelor's degrees, 1,135 master's and 378 doctorates.

History

The University began in Baltimore in 1807 as a faculty-owned College of Medicine, which granted the M.D. degree. Five years later, more degrees were added when the College was renamed The University of Maryland. The first dental school in America, the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, became a part of the University in 1840. Later, the University opened schools of pharmacy, law and nursing.

The College Park Campus opened in 1859 under a charter secured in 1856 by a group of Maryland planters. Then called the Maryland Agricultural College, it became one of the original land-grant schools in 1865. After a disastrous fire in 1912, the State acquired control of the College and paid to rebuild it.

The present form of The University of Maryland dates back to a 1920 act of the State legislature joining the State-owned institution at College Park with the professional schools in Baltimore. The move created The University of Maryland College Park (UMCP) and The University of Maryland at Baltimore (UMAB). Three other campuses have since been added: Baltimore County (UMBC) in Catonsville; Eastern Shore (UMES) in Princess Anne; and the worldwide University College (UMUC), headquartered in College Park.

Libraries

Libraries on the College Park Campus include approximately 1.78 million volumes, 20,658 subscriptions to periodicals and newspapers, and more than 2.5 million units of microform. College Park offers the largest university research library in the Washington area and is an important resource of the State and local community.

THE COLLEGE PARK CAMPUS AND THE UNIVERSITY

Charles B. Calvert was one of the founders of the Maryland Agriculture College which later became The University of Maryland. Deciding that commercially sold bricks were too expensive, he set up a kiln to produce his own, and on August 24, 1858, he laid the cornerstone for the first building on the campus.

Research Facilities

Among the exceptional research facilities on the campus are a computer vision laboratory; a full-scale low velocity wind tunnel; several smaller hypersonic helium wind tunnels; a 500 liter computer-controlled fermentation system for research in bioprocess scale-up programs; computer-assisted cartographic laboratories; the Center for Automation Research; a comfort perception laboratory; a quiescent plasma device (Q machine) for plasma research, and satellite remote sensing facilities.

The campus is home for the Engineering Research Center, a major vehicle for extending the technical and research expertise of The University of Maryland to businesses and industries throughout the State. The center is both a catalyst for problem solving and a clearinghouse for information for technical information resources.

In 1985, the College Park Campus was awarded a five-year, $16 million grant from the National Science Foundation to create a new Systems Research Center to facilitate research in artificial intelligence and computer-aided engineering. The center complements a nationally recognized campus program of basic and applied research in computer science. In 1986, UMCP became one of 19 research institutions around the country to be linked via satellite to the Cray supercomputer facility at the University of California at San Diego.

The proximity of the campus to national research institutions such as the National Institutes of Health, the Smithsonian Institution, the USDA Beltsville National Agricultural Research Center and National Agricultural Library, and the Library of Congress ensures that prime research facilities are always available to the University's faculty and students.

The Graduates

Students graduating today from The University of Maryland College Park follow in the footsteps of many notable UMCP alumni who have distinguished themselves in such fields as science, entertainment, arts, journalism, business, law, medicine and government.

While he was a graduate student in mathematics at College Park, Herbert A. Hauptman (Ph.D. '54), worked simultaneously at the Naval Research Laboratory to devise a method for mapping three-dimensional structures of molecules. Three decades later he and Jerome Karle, his long-time collaborator at NRL, won the 1985 Nobel Prize in Chemistry for their pioneering research. Dr. Hauptman was awarded an honorary Doctor of Science degree by UMCP in 1985.

One of the youngest UMCP graduates ever, Charles Fefferman ('66), received a joint degree in mathematics and physics at age 17. Now a world-class mathematician and professor at Princeton University, he holds the Fields Medal, the most prestigious mathematics award.

NBC News anchor Connie Chung ('69) started her career at UMCP's Diamondback newspaper and the campus radio station WMUC.

One of the University's most devoted sons is A. James Clark ('50), president of the George Hyman Construction Co. and president and chairman of CEI Construction Inc., the umbrella organization for engineering and construction companies that include OMNI and Hyman. A member of the University's Board of Regents since 1981, Clark in 1983 made a major contribution to the College of Engineering which led to the establishment of the A.J. Clark Chair in Construction Engineering and Management.

Two-time Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and science writer with Baltimore's Evening Sun Jon Franklin ('70) is an associate professor of journalism at UMCP.

Other notable alumni include former Metropolitan Opera star, Carmen Balthrop ('71); George V. McGowan ('51), president of Baltimore Gas and Electric; Karl W. Meyer ('49), president of the University of Wisconsin, Superior Campus; Maryland's Fourth District Congressman Tom McMillen ('74), a former Rhodes Scholar; Maryland's Fifth District Congressman Steny Hoyer ('63); Mary Stallings Coleman ('35), the first woman elected to the Supreme Court of Michigan; Fred O'Green ('49), retired Curator of Textiles, Smithsonian Institution; James R. Buckler ('70), current director of the Smithsonian's Office of Horticulture; Anne Truax Darlington ('52), creator of Wall Street Week, the director of the International Production Group for the Maryland Center for Public Broadcasting; and Allen J. Krowe ('54), senior vice president of the International Business Machines Corp.

Academic Costume

The black caps and gowns worn by the students and faculty in the academic procession have been the traditional costume of scholars since medieval times. They probably represent a kind of ecclesiastical dress, since many of the scholars of that period were members of monastic orders.

Most colleges and universities in the United States have adopted the uniform code for costumes drafted by an intercollegiate commission in 1983. Each of the three academic degrees—bachelor, master and doctor—has its own distinctive gown and hood. The bachelor's gown is distinguished by its long pointed sleeve. The master's gown has a longer, more narrow, closed sleeve extending below the knee; the arm fits through a slit at the elbow. The doctor's gown has a full, bell-shaped sleeve trimmed with three bars of velvet. The velvet trim on the gown can be black or a color indicating the wearer's general field of learning—for example, green for medicine or purple for law. A list of department colors follows.

Agriculture/Maize	Music/Pink
Arts, Letters, Humanities/White	Nursing/Apricot
Business Administration, Commercial Science/Drab	Oratory, Speech/Silver Gray
Dentistry/Lilac	Pharmacy/Olive
Economics/Copper	Philanthropy/Rose
Education/Light Blue	Philosophy/Dark Blue
Engineering/Orange	Public Administration, Foreign Service/Peacock Blue
Fine Arts, Architecture/Brown	Public Health/Salmon
Forestry/Russet	Physical Education/Sage Green
Home Economics/Maroon	Science/Golden Yellow
Journalism/Crimson	Social Work/Citron
Law/Purple	Theology and Divinity/Scarlet
Library Science/Lemon	Veterinary Sciences/Gray
Medicine/Green

The most colorful and distinctive part of the academic costume is the hood extending down the back. The doctor's is the largest of the hoods and the bachelor's is the smallest. The bachelor's hood is often omitted.

Silk lining of various colors in the center of the hood indicates the college or university which conferred the degree. Consistent for all degrees is the cap, or mortar board, which has a tassel of black or another color indicating the field of learning. The tassel of the doctor's cap can be gold.

Academic Degrees

A degree is awarded for the successful completion of a course of study. There are more than 1,600 different academic degrees currently conferred by colleges and universities nationwide.

The first known degree was a doctorate bestowed by the University of Bologna, Italy, in the mid-12th century. Originally, the doctor's and master's degree were used interchangeably, each indicating that the holder was qualified to instruct students. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree only indicated entrance into a course of study preparatory to the doctorate or mastership. Gradually, though, the bachelor's degree came to mean successful completion of one level of study in advance of the higher degrees.

The Doctor's Degree

The term "doctor," meaning teacher or instructor, originated with the ancient Romans for those who lectured publicly on philosophical topics. During the Middle Ages, it was used as a title of honor for men of great learning. It was first made an academic title at the University of Bologna, which was allowed by the emperor to appoint doctores legum (doctors of laws). The University of Paris followed suit in the year 1145. Soon after, popes granted the universities the right to appoint doctores canonum et decretalium (teachers of the canon law) and, when the study of civil law was combined with that of the canon law, the title was changed to doctor utriusque juris (teacher of both laws). The faculties of theology and medicine followed that of law in conferring this title.

A doctorate is given beyond the baccalaureate degree and requires several years of advanced study, the successful completion of a thesis or dissertation, and written and oral examinations. The doctor's degree represents the most advanced earned degree conferred by American institutions. There are two distinct types: the practitioner's degree and the research degree. The first type represents advanced training for the practice of various professions, principally Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Dental Surgery, Doctor of Veterinary Medicine, Juris Doctor and Doctor of Pharmacy. These degrees carry no implication of original research. The University of Maryland awarded the first two dental degrees in history on March 9, 1841, and invented the name of the degree, Doctor of Dental Surgery (D.D.S.).

The second type is a research doctorate representing prolonged periods of advanced study. A dissertation which usually accompanies the study is intended to contribute substantially to existing knowledge on the subject. The most important of these, the Doctor of Philosophy, no longer has an implication of philosophy for its holder, but represents advanced research in any of the major fields of knowledge. It was first awarded in the United States in 1861 by Yale University. The University of Maryland awarded a Ph.D. for the first time in 1920.

The Master's Degree

The master's degree is an academic honor bestowed upon students who have successfully completed work beyond the baccalaureate. A thesis and an oral examination are usually required. The word magister was used by the Romans as a title of honor, but its present meaning can be traced to the establishment of the oldest universities. Organized faculties as they now exist in universities were not known then: academic activity was limited to seven liberal arts. Those who were honored for their diligence and knowledge upon completion of their studies and who had already received the bachelor's degree were called magistri artium (masters of the liberal arts). In 1920, The University of Maryland awarded its first Master of Arts (M.A.) and Master of Science (M.S.) degrees in fields other than agriculture.

The Bachelor's Degree

The bachelor's degree represents completion of a four-year course of college-level study and is the oldest academic degree used by American institutions of higher learning. It was first conferred in America in 1642 on the first nine graduates of Harvard College. Maryland Agriculture College, which later became The University of Maryland College Park, awarded its first Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) and Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degrees in 1862.

Hugh Downs' integrity, reasoned judgement, and insight into American culture have made him one of the most trusted and enduring television personalities in the nation.

Familiar to millions of Americans as host of the ABC News prime-time weekly newsmagazine program, "20/20," Downs has enjoyed a distinguished career in radio and television as a reporter, newscaster, interviewer, narrator and host. In 1985, he celebrated his 40th anniversary in television broadcasting and also was certified by the Guinness Book of World Records as holding the record for the greatest number of hours on network television.

Born in Akron, Ohio, on February 14, 1921, Downs began his broadcasting career as a radio announcer in Lima, Ohio, at the age of 19. After serving in the U.S. Army during World War II, he joined NBC in Chicago as a staff announcer, and joined the "Home" show on that network in New York in 1954. From 1956-1957, Downs was the announcer for NBC's "Caesar's Hour," starring comedian Sid Caesar. In July, 1957, he helped launch "The Tonight Show" with Jack Paar and stayed with the late-night series for five years.

In August, 1958, Downs became host of the daytime game series, "Concentration," a role he continued when he joined the broadcast team of NBC News' "Today" program in September, 1962. As host of the "Today" show, Downs reported to the nation on the news of the day and interviewed statesmen and leaders from around the world. He left "Today" in October, 1971.

Downs has been honored many times for his distinguished career in journalism. In 1986, he was awarded the National Headliner Award by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. He was also the recipient of the 1985 Award of Merit from the National Honor Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. He received an Emmy Award in May, 1981, for his work as host of the Public Broadcasting Service program, "Over Easy."

He has written several books. The latest, "On Camera: My 10,000 Hours on Television," was published in 1986.

Downs has attended Bluffton (Ohio) College, Wayne University (now Wayne State), and Columbia University. He holds an honorary doctoral degree from St. John's University, and in June, 1986, he earned a post masters' degree in gerontology from Hunter College.

Today Downs receives the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters from The University of Maryland College Park for his significant contributions to broadcast journalism.

“A Meeting Place: Night and Day” is a monument created by the late UMCP art Professor Kenneth Campbell. The 15-ton structure, which consists of two 18-foot-high pieces, is sited on a cobblestone court surrounded by dwarf pine trees just east of the H.J. Patterson Building.

SCHOLARSHIP HONORS

A spired cupola sits atop the roof of the newly-renovated Microbiology Building. Built in 1938, the building originally served as a U.S. Bureau of Mines research center for non-metallic minerals.

Bachelor's degree candidates who have qualified for scholarship honors upon graduation are designated by appropriate symbols adjacent to their names within the alphabetical listings of colleges or schools.

To be eligible for consideration for such honors a candidate must meet the following general criteria: (1) have completed at least two years of work at The University of Maryland (60 semester hours, 30 of which were earned at the College Park Campus) and (2) have a scholastic average of B (grade point average of 3.000) or higher in University of Maryland work prior to the last semester of registration before award of degree.

May 1988 candidates who have met these criteria are shown in the listings as qualifying, upon graduation, for the designations Summa Cum Laude (if they ranked in the top two percent of the candidates in their respective colleges or schools), Magna cum Laude (if in the next three percent), or cum Laude (if in the next five percent), based on the grade point averages of students in the preceding three graduating classes of their degree-granting unit.
